"The Girl From Kays."

"The Girl From Kays," the elaborate farce comedy with music which comes to the opera house to-morrow evening, is a humorous and tuneful piece that that gained exceptional favor dur-

SPORTS.

MARINES WIN BALL GAME FROM BLUEJACKETS.

A swift game of ball was played yesterday on the navy yard diamond between the Marines stationed at the yard and the men from the U. S. S. Gloucester, lying in the harbor. The game resulted in a score of three to two in favor of the Marines.

The Marines now issue a challenge to play anything in the navy or out of it. Acceptance may be left at The Journal office or sent direct to the Marine baseball nine at the navy yard.

Sorting Notes.

The prospects for winning crews at Cornell this year are not of the brightest. The coaches have a difficult problem to solve. They will have to form almost an entirely new varsity eight. There will not be, as in years past, a nucleus of old men around, as only three of last years crew are back at college, but the coaches have their eye on several promising freshmen.

Spalding's Athletic Library for January is devoted to indoor baseball and is the official guide for 1905. The new guide has several very handsome halftone pictures of the prominent American teams as well as other numerous features.

Several of the pupils of the public schools have formed foot-ball teams and almost any pleasant afternoon they can be seen practicing on the vacant lots.

The sporting editor of the Journal will gladly publish any items regarding local sporting events as well as local foot-ball games between the younger teams. Send in the account of your games which will be published in full in the Journal every Sunday.

The Brent road is the scene of some very lively brushes almost every afternoon when several of the local doctors owning fast horses can be seen testing the merits of their respective steeds.

In addition to the Challenger, now owned by Mr. W. Gould Brokaw, it is said that Mr. Frank Croker will send his X. P. D. N. C. and Mr. W. S. ing its two years before the public. It was originally produced at the Apollo Theatre in London on November 15, 1902, and by its run for over a year there, proved that English playgoers show no signs of weariness over the inevitable humorous stage productions of the hour. In November 1903, "The Girl From Kays" found itself on the American stage at the Herald Square theatre, New York, where it immediately became the talk of that metropolis.

The book is credited to Owen Hall, the music to Ivan Caryll and the business sponsors for its American presentation are Charles Frohman and George Edwards.

The company is one of the biggest that will have been seen here and has for its leading players the famous Juke, Bernard and Clara Palmer; others are Caroline Gordon, Ray Atwell, Lily Lorrel, W. F. Constantine, Josephine Sheppard, William Rochester, Catherine Call, Benjamin Howard and sixty others.

The production is to be shown here with a cast and chorus of eighty, and two carloads of scenic appointments. The costumes are all novelties from the famous establishment of Mrs. Robert Osborn in New York and they may be said to illustrate in an animated way, the gorgeous gowns that the 400 the world over are wearing this season.

The one-act here is but for one night and the curtain is going to be rung up at 8 o'clock precisely, to enable the management to present the big show in its entirety.

Creston Clarke.

No actor in America is more popular in Pensacola than is Creston Clarke, and it will be good news to all theatre patrons to learn that he is booked for Pensacola and will be here in a very few days. The following expression from a Tampa paper will no doubt be corroborated by the people here:

"It was reflection on the theatre-goers of Tampa that every seat in the Tampa Bay Casino was not occupied last night to greet the most notable production seen here in numerous seasons—Jules Murry's company, headed by Creston Clarke, in "Monsieur Beaucaire." Mr. Murry always gives us something good, and Tampa should Orders were given a few nights at forty seven theatres to exclude James S. Metcalfe, dramatic critic and one of the editors of Life, should he apply for admission.

The action denying Mr. Metcalfe the right to enter these playhouses was taken at a meeting of the members of the Theatrical Managers' Association, held Thursday night. No sign of Mr. Metcalfe was reported by the doorkeepers, and at a late hour last night it was announced that he had not been seen in the vicinity of any of the places of amusement.

Daniel Frohman, the newly elected president of the association, said last evening that the order was given because Mr. Metcalfe had based his Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one for four weeks when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Newbro's Herpicide

AN EXQUISITE HAIR DRESSING.

The Original Remedy that "Kills the Dandruff Germ."

SOME MEN DON'T CARE. Some men are so indifferent to hair loss that they pay no attention whatever to dandruff and itching scalp. But, later, when incurable baldness comes they will waste time and money in a vain endeavor to overcome the result of their own neglect.

THERE WAS A TIME. There was a time when it was considered quite proper to ridicule and make light of the germ theory, but it isn't good taste to do it now, when municipal governments are sending for scientific men to suppress contagion. Prof. Una (ask your doctor about him) was the first to discover the dandruff microbe and now dermatologists the world over know that true dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a germ.

THE GUINEA-PIG PROVED IT. Drs. Lasar and Bishop, both noted scientists, took dandruff scales from the head of a student who was losing his hair and having made a pomade of them with vaseline, rubbed the same upon a guinea-pig and the pig became bald. (See George Thomas Jackson, M. D., on Diseases of the Skin, 4th Edition.) Newbro's Herpicide should be used at the first suggestion of dandruff or itching scalp. It prevents scalp infection, robs the public hair brush of its power to do harm, and never fails to cure dandruff and stop falling hair.

THE LADIES KNOW. The ladies are quick to discover any diseased condition of the hair, for with them the natural impulse of preservation applies particularly to Nature's Charming Adornment. When the hair becomes dull, brittle or lustreless it shows that the dandruff microbe has planted itself in the scalp and is sapping the hair's vitality. In time it will cause dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. This condition calls for the immediate use of Newbro's Herpicide. The wonderful effect of the very first application shows that it will destroy the cause after which the hair will grow as nature intended.

DISEASED HAIR EFFECTS FACIAL EXPRESSION. The face is a mirror of the mind and many women lose their youthful appearance by brooding over some physical misfortune that might be remedied. Lasting beauty comes from the consciousness that both hair and skin are perfectly healthy, as nature gave them, and this form of beauty shows through even the most irregular features. A woman may be perfect in form and her complexion may rival the color of the rose, but if it is her misfortune to have scant or lifeless hair, that misfortune will continually wound her pride and be reflected in her face. To such women Herpicide is a positive delight. It gives confidence by quickly producing the "correct" effect. Makes the hair light, fluffy, and gives it indescribable charm. A single trial will convince. Contains no oil or grease, will not stain or dye.

STOPS ITCHING OF THE SCALP INSTANTLY

NEW GROWTH OF HAIR.

I have used three bottles of Herpicide in one month, and my hair has stopped falling out and new hair is growing where there was none. I will recommend it to my friends.

AN HERPICIDE FOLLOWER.

I find Herpicide a standard remedy for the hair, and I shall always use it. I have also told a great many of my friends about it.
